Good Grief FAMILY CAMP

A Free Camp for Families

Dear Friend of UpliftedCare,

We hope this letter finds you well. The bereavement team at UpliftedCare is excited to be continuing our annual Good Grief Family Camp this year at the UpliftedCare Community Grief Center on Friday, July 26 from 8:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Since 2017, UpliftedCare has brought this rich tradition to entire families in our local communities and beyond, offering a full-day of support and fun for the whole family, completely free of charge. Families will participate in camp style activities while also building camaraderie with others experiencing similar grief emotions. They'll learn coping skills to navigate their individual grief, and parents/guardians will learn valuable skills in helping their family grieve while also managing their own grief emotions.

We are able to provide this valuable service thanks to the generosity of our community through donations received throughout the years from patients' families, independent donors and businesses.

This year, as a way to highlight our supporters, we've created dedicated partnership opportunities. These partnerships not only secure the funds needed to bring these valuable resources to families struggling with grief, but showcase the generosity of our community while helping highlight your business or organization.

Please see the attached partnership opportunities form to choose your level of support. To ensure appropriate recognition at the event, please submit by July 19, 2024. If you have any questions or would like to discuss the opportunities further, please reach out to Katie Canada, Director of Community Relations & Development for assistance at canadak@upliftedcare.org or by calling 815.939.4141.

Thank you for your consideration!

In Gratitude,

Fawn Hendershott
